“Martoccia's 2015 Brunello di Montalcino brings forth some of the warmer characteristics of the vintage, thanks to its earthy and spicy aromas that lift gently from the bouquet. A second wave of plummy dark fruit and dried cherry is quick to follow ... This edition offers a good balance between fruit and oak, and the tannins should carry the wine forward over the next five years of aging. These are nice, classic results for this vintage...” — The Wine Advocate October 2020

“Black cherry, black currant, earth and forest floor aromas and flavors mark this brooding red. A dense swath of tannins joins the fray on the finish, leaving a pleasantly astringent feel. Best from 2024 through 2040. —Wine Spectator, June 30 2020

Bright ruby red, tending to garnet when aged. Bouquets of cherry, plum and spices. Full bodied, lively acidity with flavors of red fruits. Fresh and long aftertaste. Drinkable now, with a long aging potential.

Ideal with grilled or stewed red meats, game, seasoned cheeses . Serve at 18°C.
